Word of mouth marketing is the perfect keynote for your event

Everyone wants more fans, customers, and buzz for their business and ideas, and word of mouth marketing is how they get it. Even better, word of mouth includes the red-hot theme of social media, which always fills the room.

Andy is the bestselling author and fantastic speaker who will WOW your audience. He’s made hundreds of speeches, from giant convention keynotes to private small-team seminars.

A fantastic keynote

Everywhere he speaks, Andy’s session is usually the most popular and the best attended. Andy has presented more than 200 keynotes for companies including Dell, Kraft, Microsoft, eBay, Jim Beam, and many associations and conventions. Many groups bring him back again and again for encore presentations.

Andy’s entertaining anecdotes, solid information, and non-cheesy speaking style will leave your group energized, educated, and enthusiastic about the exciting times ahead. He’s funny, relevant, and inspiring.

Andy is all about earning word of mouth — and guarantees that people will be talking about your great decision to choose him for your fantastic event.

Exactly what you’re looking for

Every presentation is customized for you after detailed conversations with your team. Andy will help you put together a practical, focused keynote that your participants know is all about them. He’s skilled at linking the big picture to your immediate needs. Keynotes can be combined with small-group workshops, breakouts, and networking activities.

He understands how to connect with your audience and create a blockbuster session that addresses the issues that matter most to them. They’ll laugh, they’ll be inspired, and they’ll leave with ideas they can implement the very next day to get more word of mouth.

A real-world speaker who knows his stuff

• He created the industry when he founded the Word of Mouth Marketing Association.
• He runs the communities WordofMouth.org and SocialMedia.org.
• He taught word of mouth marketing at Northwestern and entrepreneurship at Wharton.

Andy isn’t one of those speakers who’s all theory. He’s been in the interactive business for 20 years as an entrepreneur and CEO and speaks to business audiences from real-world experience. He has worked with more than 200 Fortune 1000 brands and hundreds of entrepreneurs and small businesses.

Practical advice that makes a difference

Andy’s matter-of-fact style and real-world experience give you actionable ideas you can actually use. You will walk out of Andy’s presentation and make a meaningful difference in your business the very next day.

With straightforward advice and humor, Andy will show you how the world’s most respected and profitable companies get their best customers for free through the power of word of mouth.

You’ll learn everything you need to get started

• 3 reasons people talk about you
• 4 rules of word of mouth marketing
• 5 essential steps that make word of mouth successful
• 6 big ideas: deep stuff that changes marketing forever

Learn what sparks the irrepressible enthusiasm of Apple and TiVo fans. Understand why everyone is talking about a certain restaurant, car, band, or dry cleaner — and why other businesses and products are ignored. Discover why some products become huge successes without a penny of promotion — and why some multi-million-dollar advertising campaigns fail to get noticed.
Word of Mouth Marketing: 5 Simple Steps

You want more people to talk about you — but how do you create a word of mouth marketing campaign? In this popular talk, you’ll learn how to energize your fans and generate positive word of mouth about your brand.

We’re going to get specific here: Where to start, what to do, and how to make it successful. Guess what? It’s common-sense stuff that you can use the next day without a big budget. You’ll learn how to:

• Find the right people to talk about you (influencers and evangelists)
• Give them something to talk about (viral content and buzz)
• Create tools to make it easier for them to spread the word (social media and offline)
• Participate in the conversation
• Track and measure the results

This talk can be customized for your group. Andy has worked with hundreds of companies and will create a perfect presentation for you. Past talks include word of mouth marketing for:

Brands, internal communications, retail, restaurants, associations, government, politics, food, CPGs, email marketers, builders, eBay sellers, franchises, eCommerce, OEMs, event marketers, software, doctors, user groups, and non-profits.

Ethics in Word of Mouth Marketing and Social Media: Doing the Right Thing and Staying Out of Trouble

Andy will give you the understanding and guidance you need to ensure that your programs are always honest, your brand is protected, and your company is never embarrassed. Learn the specific steps to stay out of trouble:

• Comply with new rules and regulations
• Train your team and agencies
• Create a social media policy
• Know where the line is and when you are crossing it
• Raise your standards and do the right thing

Andy is one of the original thinkers on the topic of ethical word of mouth and social media. He wrote the definitive ethics codes that define social media and word of mouth marketing, and he advised the FTC on their current rules. He travels the country training companies on ethical social media practices.

Responding to Negative Word of Mouth

What do you do when you’re facing negative word of mouth, bad reviews, and online attacks? Get specific, practical advice on how to respond most effectively. You’ll get detailed recommendations that you can use in any situation — and great tips on preventing future problems before they happen.

Love or Marketing? How Word of Mouth Will Save Your Brand

Word of mouth marketing is the art of creating a company that people love to talk about.

You need passionate fans who promote you because they love you and love what you do. Learn to earn their respect and recommendation, because when fans promote you for love instead of money, they do your marketing for you for free. That gives you a sustainable, renewable competitive advantage.

Remember: Happy customers are your greatest advertisers.

This classic, wildly popular bestseller helps everyone get more people talking about their company, cause, or idea.

Everyone needs word of mouth.

This is a book that companies give to entire teams and conference organizers give to every attendee. It’s a guide that works just as well for a restaurant owner as it does for a Fortune 500 marketing executive.

Front-line workers will use it to get customers excited. Management teams will use it to understand the importance of word of mouth and social media. Small businesses will learn just how easy it is to get people talking, and big businesses will learn where to focus their resources for best results.

When everyone starts thinking about how to earn customer recommendations, companies get more fans, more referrals, and more business.

This book teaches you how to do it.

Master word of mouth marketing with this fun, practical, hands-on guide.

Learn how the most profitable companies get their best customers for free through the power of word of mouth. Understand how easy it is to work with social media, viral marketing, evangelists, and buzz.
